

About Brownbook

Brownbook.net is the free local business directory that anyone can edit. We're building a global business directory and anyone can participate. You can add business listings, update them, and review businesses free and instantly. It's an ambitious project and one that you can contribute to.

If you own a business you can claim your business listing and promote it in Brownbook.net with additional text, photos and videos, plus you get alerted any time someone reviews your business. Your listing in Brownbook.net helps your website's ranking on the major search engines too, so you'll get found more, not just in Brownbook.net but all over the web.

If you're looking for a business, if you own a business, or if you know about a great - or not so great - local business, Brownbook.net is for you.

Corporate

The Brownbook.net was launched initially with over 2.2 million UK business listings. It was quickly expanded to add over 25 million listings in USA, Canada, and Australia, but anyone can add any business anywhere in the world.

Investors

Brownbook Limited is privately funded and incorporated in the UK. We're actively seeking strategic partnerships in other countries to further roll out our service, so if you see an opportunity for us to partner with you contact us. We're also on the look out for great people that really get what we're doing, so if you have something to add and you'd like to tell us about it, contact us now and tell us how you can contribute.

Developers

Brownbook.net is a global business directory that you can use to power local search on your own website. Using our open API you can structure simple or complex queries that deliver relevant results as an XML feed. Take our feed and layer on your own brand to give your users a totally seamless local business search, under your brand, on your website.

Combine that with our affiliate scheme, and you can be earning money from local search – when we make money so do you.
